EMERGING DIVISION

When the Jessie Richardson Award Society created the Emerging Division category, we hoped to highlight and celebrate works that bring innovation and excitement to our theatre community, and emerging artists who have not received the recognition that we believe they deserve. Unfortunately, the Emerging Division will not stand for the 2021-22 Jessie Awards season. While this Division was newly announced for this season, a very small number of productions were registered and subsequently attended by the Emerging Division jury. At the end of the season (April 30, 2022), the jury recommended that the Emerging Division should not stand with such a small number of eligible productions. While every effort was made by the Board of Directors to consider solutions, the final decision is that the Emerging Division will not stand for the Jessie Awards in 2022.

We understand that some community members, especially those involved with the registered productions, will feel disappointed by this outcome. (Please note that the productions registered in this Division will be refunded their registration fees.) Given the challenges associated with the ongoing pandemic for the performing arts industry, it is not a surprise that emerging companies and productions led by emerging artists are underrepresented in recently mounted theatre productions. It is the hope of the Board of Directors that emerging companies and artistic leaders will soon find space and opportunities in the professional theatre community, as we all continue to navigate the challenges brought on by this pandemic. We will continue to do the best we can to support emerging artists and works and honour their immense contribution to our theatre community.
